

Watania Educational channel starts airing school lessons for baccalaureate students

TAP Monday April, 12th 2021

The Watania Educational channel on Monday began airing school lessons for baccalaureate students. "It is a part of a whole e-learning project," said Education Minister Fethi Sellaouti during the launching ceremony.

The Minister added that the General Inspectorate of Education had selected competent teachers to ensure the courses that will be broadcast on the Al Watania Educational channel, pointing out that all means had been provided to ensure the continuation of the programs of this channel dedicated to students of all levels, pending the creation of a whole bouquet of educational channels.

National Television CEO Lassaad Dahech underlined for his part, the importance of this channel which will broadcast its programs over 24 hours, pointing out that each course will be rebroadcast three times to allow the maximum number of students to make the most of it.